KOREANS & CHINESE

COLLISION BETWEEN LABOURERS

It is reported that there was a threatened Korean-Chinese collision in Dokenri, Kosan Myon, Kaishu District, Kokaïdo on the 20th instant, about 11 a.m. A Korean coglie was run over by a Chinese truck on the site of the irrigation work and killed, on which Koreans present near by assaulted four Chinese responsible and gave them a thrashing. This led to a threatened collision between some 200 Koreans and 150 Chinese labourers. The police, however, quickly intervened and dispersed the mobs.

POLICEMAN AT WANPAOSHAN

The Manchuria Daily News states very positively that the Japanese policeman kept at Wanpaoshan to protect the Korean farmers will not be withdrawn, pending the settlement of the question by the Sino-Japanese negotiations at Kirin. Of the seed-rice laid down, that in about 48 hsiang is thought doubtful as to its results and how to keep the poor Korean colony of about 200 people from starving is a serious question to face.

In all likelihood, damages or relief in some form in behalf of those Koreans will be demanded of the Chinese side at the coming negotiations.

KOREANS LEAVING

Seven Korean families consisting of 34 people left Changchun by the 10.30 p.m. train on the 21st south for Mukden. Their travelling costs south to Mukden were paid by the Korean Settlement Council, Changchun, the expenses beyond Mukden being solicited from by the Korean Settlement Council, Mukden. They had been accommodated PURLhttp://www.legal-tools.org/doc/727b48/ rice-cleaning mill on withdrawing to Changchun from Petune under Chinese police compulsion.

Their sad lot to have to leave Petune where the young rice blades they had raised are progressing well, is a source of widespread sympathy.
